

Jane Melby has been instructing clinics for over 30 years. Jane has a passion for helping others get to the top. Her students have many accomplishments

Jane has a couple standard options for clinics.

2.5 day option

1. Day 1

- a. The first day is a half day starting with a competition run. Each student is encouraged to do their best so that I can pinpoint where they need the most help. Horses and riders perform differently when under pressure so it is very important to have the competition feel.
- b. The remainder of the evening is spent walking the pattern on foot going into detail of how the riders body should be positioned and entry/exit points of the barrel and being on the fastest track during your run. If a rider has a problem during a run they will have the same problem while walking the pattern.

2. Day 2

- a. The second day we start off as a group discussing how to compete, what your goals are, and your barrel racing motivation.
- b. Short question and answer session
- c. Walk the pattern
- d. Horsemanship/Tack check
- e. Trotting the pattern
- f. Break for Lunch
- g. Back on the pattern with added speed working on body placement, and horse placement.
- h. Break for supper

3. Day 3

- a. Day three we will again start with a group discussion. We will discuss feeding, vet care, hauling, home care, ect.
- b. Then back to perfecting the pattern with drills
- c. Break for lunch
- d. Final Competition run
- e. Group discussion talking about the competition runs
- f. Final Question and Answer
